Despite their drawbacks, MCQs have become an established method of assessment in medical education. This is mainly because they have the advantage of objectivity and they successfully assess breadth of knowledge. The Diploma in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene (DTM+H) and Part 1 of the MRCP diploma and have both used MCQs. To prepare well for these examinations candidates need to practise doing multiple choice type questions.

Multiple choice questions (MCQs) in the past were the most common modality by which medical students were examined. Although able to test a broad range of topics and being cost efficient for marking purposes, MCQs have largely been abandoned in favour of extending matching questions (EMQs) and more recently the single best answer (SBA) question
